

Educational Presentation at AlaHA

Gilpin Givhan, PC health care attorneys John Weiss, Gregg Everett and Kenny Keith participated in a seminar for hospital administrators, CEOs, CFOs, compliance officers and other hospital executives this week. Presentations covered a wide array of subjects of interest to hospitals including recent whistleblower settlements and cases, various ways to self-disclose problems, handling of state surveys, and various forms of physician alignment. The seminar was part of Gilpin Givhan's sponsorship of the Alabama Hospital Association and the firm's commitment to make meaningful and relevant information on compliance and other health law matters available for AlaHA members.
